

Welcome to the CPSC Library/Media Education Program!

Dear Parents,

I am thrilled to be starting up the Library/Media Education program at CPSC this school year. Our library has made great strides in the past year with the help of the Library Committee, CPSC interns and UNC volunteers. Now it's time to take that next step and integrate the space into our Project Based curriculum. In the coming year your students will have the opportunity to explore the room, not only as a library, but also as a multi-media lab, an exploratory classroom, as well as a creative space where they can expand on and connect to what they are learning in their classrooms.

The 2011-2012 school year will start out without a coordinator in the library, since I'll be on maternity leave. So I'm looking to you all for some help in making the transition into the new year, as well as for your support of the new program throughout the year. Please review the volunteer opportunities included in the Parent Participation section of your June mailing packet and sign up where you see fit!

Finally, a website, dedicated to the new program can be found at: <http://cpsclibrary.weebly.com> Here you will find samples of student work, recommended reading lists, student book reviews and a wishlist for the CPSC library. If you are so inclined, please review and send in any items at any time throughout the year. Thanks for your continued support!

Peace,

Heather Anne Cook
